If Mr. Morrissey will send me word by note when and where he desires to see me for the ar- lated in a modest way a variety of incirangement of preliminaries, I will meet dents of his European experience, avoidhim without delay; and the only further wish I now desire to express is that, like the stakes, the forfeit may may be large. Yours truly, John C. HEENAN.

At a late hour, however, a messenger called at the Herald office and left the following note, enclosed in an envelope bearing the water mark of the Congress Hotel, Saratoga Springs, and with the endorsement "Deliver to-night, sure :"-

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. Saratoga Springs, July 17, 1860. My attention has been called to a challenge, purporting to come from me to John C. Heenan, in your issue of this day. desire to say in answer that I am not the author of said challenge, nor have I authorized any person or persons to issue such challenge in my name. Moreover, I am not training for a fight, but am here for the benefit of whom it may concern: my health, and have business of more importance on hand than preparing for such a contest. Yours respectfully,

John Morrissey. At this late hour it is impossible to reports in regard to Morrissey's presence being not an angel, not a hero, re in town are so contradictory as to be unthe matter in order to disentangle this and unwise, and none of which pugilistic imbroglio.

tending the arrival of John C. Heenan, the Benicia Boy," occurred last night in the uous joy of the esponsals. Generally, SAM'L OTT. SON & CO.,

As near as we can learn the facts of the case, it appears that between eight and

Thirteenth street and Broadway, the head-quarters of Heenan, as has been usual every day since his arrival, drawn together by the irrepressible curiosity to see the hero, which just now pervades the entire community. In this crowd were two indiv.duals named Patrick McDonald and John Dugan, a Deputy Marshal, as we are informed, under Captain Rynders, the former being a warm supporter of the "Boy," and the latter a friend of Morrissey. The topic was the challenge of Morrissey, pub. lished in the Herald of yesterday; but the conversation soon assumed the shape of a serious dispute, and the parties retired to the sidewalk. Here, it is said, McDonald with them if only his wife were a little struck Dugan several times, applying to different from what she is, and the wife him all sorts of opprobrious epithets embraced in the calendar. Dugan in the meanwhile acting on the defensive, said he did not desire to have a muss, and re-rapidly fired four times in succession. Then taking to his heels he started off on a lively run, followed by a shouting crowd of men and boys.

MacDonald, it is said, boldly faced the fire, making every effort to get at his antagonist, but strange to say was hit but once, and that in the little finger of his left hand, the ball passing through the second joint from the inside. One of the bystanders, named Wm. G. Robinson, who resides at 343 West Twenty-third street, however, was less fortunate, and received a leaden messenger in the fleshy part of his thigh, just below the hip, the ball passing through the frock of his coat, which was buttoned around him at the time. He was not so severely injured as to prevent his walking, and both the wounded roceeded to Fourteenth street, where they received the necessary surgical attention. The doctor stated that MacDonald was likely to lose his finger, and did not suc-ceed in extracting the ball from the limb of Mr. Robinson.

No police were in sight until after the affray, and consequently no arrests that we are aware of were made.

A friend of Mr. Robinson had his pocket picked of twenty dollars while in the crowd, and only discovered the loss when he called on his treasury for the lucre to remunerate the surgeon. Who says that misfortunes never come singly, or that enriosity, like glory, does not require its

This in itself pays me for the times of the prize fighter in remembering Physically, as every one who has seen any responsible man's hands the sum of him is aware, he is a splendid specimen of $2,500 as a preliminary deposit for a match a man. He appears to be in perfect health doubtless, to abstinence fro the articles, and the selection of a stake- dissipation-a virtue worthy of the imitaholder. I should have been pleased, after tion of most of his confreres-and one can long stay abroad, to have a few weeks hardly realize that the clear eye, ruddy of leisure to enjoy among my friends; but skin and well formed features of the indias there is no way in which I can be gratago the scarred and bloody mass described in the history of the terrible battle of

While waiting in the office, Heenan reing, however, all reference to the fight, unless in response to some question, and expressed much pleasure at the courteous manner in which he had been treated since his arrival home. Having fluished his business he proceeded to his carriage. The crowd was so great that it was almost impossible for him to make his way; but he finally succeeded, and, with an immense multitude chasing after him, even climbing upon his carriage, and cheering lustily for the Benicia Boy, was soon out of sight.

His response to the challenge, as will be seen in another column, is bona fide, and evidently means "business."

As it is, we have all to solve the great problem unassisted, and to learn the secret after many months or years experience, more or less bitter according as our own natures are more or less reasonable. One error, we find, is cherished by nearly all unhappy married people; namely, each thinks that the fault is all on the other side. The husband takes it for granted that all would be well feels sure that perfect happiness would be the instantaneous result if only that husband of hers were not quite so unreasonable. In almost all cases, this opinion is erroneous. There cannot be a quarrel unless both are in fault. There can seldom be permanent estrangement without previous fault on both sides."

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.] A Memorial for Broderick. A tribute to the memory of David C. Broderick, by Walter G. Sherwin, of the Cincinnati Bar:

"THEY HAVE RILLED ME BECAUSE I WAS OPPOSED TO THE EXTENSION OF SLAVERY AND A CORRUPT ADMINISTRATION .- Spoken after the Duel, Sept. 13th, 1859. This pamphlet of twenty well filled pages, is the contribution of a young man to the memory of the heroic and manly Broderick. Few Americans have lived, whose example is more instructive to those who have their own career to make, than that of this lamented Senator.

Mr Sherwin's tribute begins with a dra-matic picture of the early life of his subject, followed by a succinct history of his business life, political actions, and private studies. Its style is earnest and striking, and it commends itself to all who would learn the history of an independent politician, or preserve a memorial of a brave champion of the cause of free labor. BIGRED BOOT! JOHN ANDERSON, Manufacturer.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS JUST RE TURNED from the East and is now receiving his Spring Stock of Boots and Shoes of every variety.

He has also supplied himself with a prime stock of Loather of all kinds, out of which he is now ready to manufacture every description of Ladios' and Chils dren's wear. To this new (manufacturing) department of the business he carnestly requests the attention of the Ladies, as he is prepared to furnish a bet ter article and more handsome and alcer fifting shoe than ever before effered in this city.

His long experience in the business (with his predessesors, McCallens & Knox.) has made him bo well acquainted with the wants and necessities of the Ladies, that he feels confident that none who may favor him with their partonage will go may disastished nois he may furnish.

A single trial will prove that this is no finishing the sincerity of his advertisement and ostablish the sincerity of To the country patrons, who have so long and feith fully "stuck by" the establishment, he would say that he is prepared to furnish them with the same broads some, having adopted for his motto that "the nimble fip is better than the slow bit."

"The lig Red Boot is still the sign, as 't was before, To guide you to his corner store."
